India—East India (Revenue Accounts)

Ordered, That the several Accounts and Papers which have been presented to the House, in this Session of Parliament, relating to the Revenues of India, be referred to the consideration of a Committee of the whole House Aug 6

Resolved, That this House will, on Thursday, resolve itself into the said Committee

India—East India Revenue Accounts—The Annual Financial Statement

Moved, "That it appears, by the Accounts laid before this House, that the Total Revenue of India for the year ending the 31st day of March 1887 was Rx.77,337,134; that the Total Expenditure in India and in England charged to Revenue was Rx.77,158,707; that there was a surplus of Revenue over Expenditure of Rx.178,427; and that the Capital Outlay on Railways and Irrigation Works was Rx.5,670,484, besides a Capital Charge of £4,914,546 involved in the Redemption of Liabilities" (Sir John Gorst) Aug 9, [330] 137

After long debate, Amendt. at end, add "But this Committee is of opinion that the economies proposed by the Army Commission in India should be enforced, especially those which would do away with the Commands in Chief in Madras and Bombay; and that the Civil administration of those Presidencies might be more economically conducted, but with equal if not greater efficiency, by making those Presidencies Lieutenant Governorships instead of Governorships" (Sir William Plowden); Question proposed, "That those words be there added;" after further debate, Question put; A. 36, N. 105; M. 69 (D. Public Offices, Re-organizations in
Moved, "That the Re-organizations in the Accountant General's and Secretary's Departments of the Admiralty have been injurious to the public interests, by resulting in increased charges for those Departments, and by needlessly adding to extravagant pensions and bonuses ; and that in any further re-organizations, officials who are still able and willing to render service for the public money shall be provided with employment in other Departments, instead of being forced to become useless burdens upon the country" (Mr. Jennings) June 12, [326] 1893
After debate, Amendt. to leave out from "That" add "this House, whilst of opinion that when the re-organization of a Department becomes necessary, full inquiry should be made into the wants of other Departments with a view to the continued public employment of redundant officers, is not prepared, pending the inquiry of the Royal Commission upon Civil Service Establishments, to anticipate its report by laying down

SPEAKER, THE (Right Hon. ARTHUR WELLESLEY PEEL), Warwick and Leamington
NEW RULES OF PROCEDURE (1888)—
Business of the House—New Standing Orders relative to Public Business, Session 1888
Resolution I.—Sittings of the House, [322] 1403, 1435, 1447. Nomination of Five Members to act as Deputy Speakers, 1458
Resolution II.—Closure of Debate, 1659, 1660, 1671
Resolution III.—Disorderly Conduct, 1690, 1695
Resolution IX.—Divisions, 1724, 1754, 1759
Resolution X.—Address in Answer to the Queen's Speech, 1774

Rule I. (Sittings of the House)
Mr. Speaker: It would not be relevant to go into a general discussion of the Rules on the Motion to give precedence to their consideration, [322] 1252

The Twelve o'Clock Rule—Mr. Speaker: As I read the Resolution passed by this House on Friday last, its purport appears to be this—that after 12 o'clock it is sufficient to retard the further progress of any Bill for any hon. Member to say "I object." . . . . The Half-past Twelve Rule, if it has not been abolished, has certainly fallen into desuetude by the operation of that Resolution, [322] 1497
Mr. Speaker: Does the hon. Member withdraw his Motion? Mr. Brooke Robinson: I do, Sir. Mr. Cremer: I object.—Mr. Speaker: The matter then stands over till to-morrow. Mr. Sexton: Is it possible for an hon. Member to object after a Motion has been made and debated?—Mr. Speaker: The objection, if taken at any time, is fatal, [331] 1391

II. (Closure of Debate)
Crofters' Holdings (Scotland), &c., Bill—Dr. Cameron claimed to move, "That the Question be now put."—Mr. Speaker withheld his assent. He said the debate had not been conducted for such a length of time that it was desirable to take the opinion of the House while still an interval of time was left for discussion, [324] 1600
Lord Charles Beresford claimed to move, "That the Question be now put."—Mr. Speaker: I would point out to the noble Lord that there are still 10 minutes during which the debate may be continued; and also that there is the right of reply on the part of the Mover of the Motion before the House, [325] 1171
Official Secrets Bill—Mr. Kelly claimed to move, "That the Question be now put."—Mr. Speaker said: Five minutes is a very short time to devote to a Second Reading discussion, and, moreover, Business is now interrupted by 12 o'clock, [326] 1496

Rule as to the Closure in Committee—Mr. Conybeare said, he had a right to repudiate the charge of obstruction made against him. He challenged anyone to say whether he had in any single instance done anything that by any interpretation could be called obstruction.—Mr. Speaker: This discussion is somewhat irregular. It refers to circumstances that took place in Committee, and to the application of the Rule of Closure there, of which the House is not cognizant, [331] 730
Mr. Conybeare was proceeding to refer to the exercise of the closure in connection with the passage of an Irish Vote when Mr. Speaker ruled the hon. Member out of Order in referring to those proceedings, [331] 732
Mr. Labouchere wished to ask whether the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. W. H. Smith) was correctly reported in the debate on the 24th of February of the present year, when the Standing Order, Sittings of the House, was under discussion. . . . . Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman is now debating the question for the purpose of elucidating some answer given by the right hon. Gentleman with regard to Report of

Supply, and to that extent I told him he would be in Order; but he would not be in Order in raising a debate as to what the right hon. Gentleman had said about the Rule at the proceedings in Committee of Supply if under discussion at 12 o'clock, [331] 612, 613

Educational Endowments (Scotland) Act, 1882—Motion for an Address—Mr. Conway rose to move the Adjournment of the Debate—Mr. Speaker: I shall not put that Question, for I consider it would be an abuse of the Rules of the House. I will state the reason why I think so. The hon. Member who moved the Resolution is acting in accordance with the procedure laid down in an Act of Parliament. The limit of the time within which he could so act is getting very near, and it would be a very unfair thing, by means of moving the Adjournment, to deprive the hon. Member of the only means of raising the question, [328] 1887

The Twelve o'Clock Rule

Army (Annual) Bill—Order for Second Reading read.—Mr. Biggar objected [it being now past 12 of the clock.]—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman's objection does not hold good to a Bill of this nature, which is in pursuance of the provisions of a Statute, [323] 1750

I must remind the hon. and learned Gentleman (Mr. T. M. Healy) that the debate has gone on till midnight, and therefore stands, ipso facto, adjourned. . . . The debate is adjourned by the Rules of the House, and remarks as to that Motion would anticipate the discussion on the subject which might arise when the debate is resumed, [326] 1234

Mr. T. M. Healy asked if, under the Resolution the House had that day passed, the suspension of the Rule closing debate at Midnight only applied to the debate just concluded, and then, seeing that 1 o'clock was passed, should not the Speaker, under the One o'clock Rule, at once vacate the Chair without Motion put, the remaining Orders of the Day standing over until the next day's Sitting?—Mr. Speaker said, the House had passed a Resolution providing that the debate on a particular Motion should not be interrupted at 12 o'clock, and at the termination of the proceedings for which such provision was made the operation of the usual Rule, till then suspended, began, [327] 1418

National Debt (Notice of Redemption) Resolution—Dr. Tanner asked whether he would be in Order in objecting to this Resolution being proceeded with after 12 o'clock?—Mr. Speaker said that the objection would not apply, inasmuch as the proceeding was taken in pursuance of a Statute, and was exempted from the 12 o'clock Rule, [328] 525

Mr. Macdonald asked whether it was competent to discuss the Bills after 12 o'clock, in face of the Notices of opposition to them already on the Paper?—Mr. Speaker: Notice of opposition has nothing to do with the matter; but if any hon. Member objects when the Bills are called on, that would be sufficient to delay them, [328] 1534, 1644

Mr. Whitbread asked, whether, supposing a Member who had charge of a Bill were allowed to make his statement after 12 o'clock, would that place Members who desired to oppose the measure in any worse position, or have less power of stopping Business after allowing this courtesy to a Member in charge of a Bill?—Mr. Speaker said, the hon. Member was perfectly right in his suggestion; an hon. Member would not, under such circumstances, lose his power of objecting, [329] 890

Parliamentary Elections (Returning Officers' Expenses) (Scotland) Bill—Moved, "That the Bill be now read a second time."—Mr. Esslemont thought the House should know the intention of the Government in regard to this Bill.—Mr. Speaker: Objection having been taken, the hon. Member cannot debate the Bill now, [330] 1499

Employers' Liability for Injuries to Workmen Bill—Consideration. Mr. W. H. Smith claimed, "That the Main Question be now put." — Mr. T. M. Healy: Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of Order. The House has decided that this Bill be now considered. I presume, therefore, that it will not be competent for the Government to postpone the Bill to a future date?—Mr. Speaker: The Question is, "That the Bill be now considered."—Mr. T. M. Healy: My point is that, as it is after 12 o'clock, it is impossible to consider the Bill now.—Mr. Speaker: There is nothing in the objection. The proceeding is quite proper, [331] 1483

Mr. E. Robertson. I wish, Sir, to put a Question to you upon a point of Order in reference to a Motion which is about to be made by the First Lord of the Treasury—namely, whether a general Motion to suspend the 12 o'clock Rule would not, by the Rules of the House, be open to debate; and whether a Motion repeated every Monday and Thursday to the end of the Session to suspend the Rule in pursuance of an avowed purpose is not a practical evasion of the Rules of the House? — Mr. Speaker: I would remind the hon. and learned Member that the words of the Standing Order are—"The Motion may be made by the Minister of the Crown at the commencement of Public Business, to be decided without Amendment or Debate." There is no prohibition against the Motion being repeated, [331] 1614-5

The Six o'Clock Rule

Supply—Report—Mr. Conybeare said, he objected to the Report of Supply being taken. —Mr. Speaker: The objection does not hold good for the Report of Supply. . . . The Standing Order of July 10 expressly provides that the Report of Supply might be taken after 6 o'clock on Wednesday, [330] 1217-8-9

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Standing Orders—Committee of Ways and Means—The hon. and learned Gentleman (Mr. T. M. Healy) seems to think this is an exceptional proceeding. The Standing Orders require that the Committee of Ways and Means should be set up immediately after the Address is voted. This is merely a formal proceeding, and I am acting under the obligations of the Standing Orders, [322] 1348, 1349

Suspension of the Standing Order as regards certain Bills, [323] 1848

Sir Wilfrid Lawson asked with reference to a certain Notice whether, as it refers to the conduct of hon. Members of this House, it does not come within the category of a question of Privilege?—Mr. Speaker: Certainly not. It is put down in the usual way as a Notice of Motion, and it will come on when called on. Of course, if the discussion takes place after 12 o'clock, the time for adjournment would be 1 o'clock, [328] 1413

Suspension of the Standing Orders—Mr. Speaker: The Rule which applies to the Suspension of the Standing Orders has reference to the Business which stands on the Paper at Twelve o'clock, and not to an ordinary Wednesday Sitting, [330] 118

Orders of the Day—Government Orders—Mr. W. H. Smith said, he would move the Adjournment after the 24 Government Orders had been disposed of, and the 43rd Order—namely, the Marriages Validation Bill, which, though not marked as such, was in reality a Government Bill.—Mr. Speaker said, as it appeared to have been a slip not to have put the Marriages Validation Bill down as a Government Order, it might be now set down as such after Order 24, [330] 121

Sittings and Adjournment of the House

Morning and Evening Sittings—Orders of the Day—Suspension and Resumption of Sittings—Mr. Speaker said, the course followed was perfectly regular, [323] 1538

Saturday Sittings

Report of Supply—Dr. Clark asked whether it would be competent to take Report of Supply after half-past 5 (Saturday)?—Mr. Speaker said, that would be so according to Standing Orders, [331] 731

Supply — Committee — Hour of Meeting—Mr. T. M. Healy: I should like to receive your interpretation of the Rule "Sittings of the House" passed on the 24th of February. My submission is that the Government cannot fix a 12 o'clock Sitting on Saturday except by a special Order of the House. The Government have thought fit to apply the Wednesday Rule to Saturdays; but I want to know, Sir, under what Rule you will take the Chair at 12 o'clock to-morrow?—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member is quite right in his interpretation of the Rule. Saturday being an exceptional day, on which the House does not usually sit, it would be proper that a distinct opportunity should be offered for the House to express an opinion on the point. As a matter of Order, I could not say that the mere fact of a Minute saying

"to-morrow (being Saturday), at twelve" would preclude any hon. Gentleman objecting, and so preventing a Sitting being taken on Saturday, [331] 1484, 1486

Mr. Hunter said, he would move that the Wednesday Rule should apply to the Saturday Sitting.—Mr. Speaker said, it was not competent for the hon. Member to make that Motion, [332] 293

NEW RULES OF PROCEDURE, 1882

Rule 2 (Adjournment of the House)

Matter—Meeting, April 12, at Ennis—Mr. Parnell having asked leave to move the Adjournment of the House, for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance, Mr. Speaker said, he did not think the Motion would come within the Rule as to a definite matter of urgent public importance unless the hon. Member struck out the reference to "other proceedings," [324] 1068, 1079, 1101, 1104

Mr. Justin M'Carthy—Matter, Criminal Law and Procedure (Ireland) Act, 1887—Increased Sentences on Appeal, [325] 843

May 1—Dr. Clark—Matter, Crofters' Grievances, [325] 1048

June 12—Mr. Thomas Ellis—Matter, Tithe Disturbances in North Wales—Action of Police and Emergency Men, [326] 1415

By the Rules of the House, the discussion must be kept closely to the definite point which has been raised, [326] 1428

The right hon. and learned Gentleman (Mr. Osborne Morgan) is not in Order in referring to the position of the Church in Wales on the question of tithe. The Question before the House relates to the conduct of the police towards men, women, and children in a certain place in Denbighshire on a particular day, [326] 1431

July 6—Mr. Bradlaugh—Matter, Police Courts—Enforcement of certain orders made on the 17th December by Mr. Bridge, Metropolitan Police Magistrate, [328] 582

Mr. Parnell: I beg leave to move the Adjournment of the House on a definite question of urgent public importance — namely, the statement that we have just heard from the right hon. Gentleman, and the position which he has assigned to this most important Motion. Mr. Speaker: Order, order! I am sorry to interrupt the hon. Gentleman, but that would be a violation of the Rules of the House. It would be anticipating the discussion of a Bill standing on the Notice Paper, [328] 1411

July 16—Mr. Conybeare—Matter, Conduct of Metropolitan Police in Trafalgar Square—Mr. Speaker reminded the hon. Member (Mr. Conybeare) that he must confine himself to the specific cases in which the Adjournment of the House had been moved, and not go into general questions which were irrelevant to the subject of the Motion, [328] 1417, 1418

November 29—Mr. Bradlaugh—Matter, Imprisonment of Thomas Moroney, [331] 529

December 4—Lord Randolph Churchill—Matter, Despatch of a British Battalion to Suakin, [331] 1024

December 6—Mr. Labouchere—Matter, The Unsatisfactory Position of Public Business—The hon. Member was proceeding to review the work of the Session—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The hon. Gentleman has moved the Adjournment for the sake of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance. I do not think that under leave so given it is competent to the hon. Gentleman to take a general retrospect of the Session, [331] 1261

DIVISIONS

Local Government (England and Wales) Bill—Estimate of Values of Public-House Property—Sir Wilfrid Lawson: Rule 196 declares that no Member of this House shall be entitled to vote on any Question in which he has a direct pecuniary interest, and that the vote of any Member so interested shall be disallowed. May I ask whether those interested in breweries will be allowed to vote in this matter?—Mr. Speaker: That is a point which is settled by the judgment of the House, [326] 1537, 1538

PETITIONS

The Proceedings of this House—Mr. Sexton asked whether he would be in Order in moving that the text of the Petition be embodied in the Proceedings of the House?—Mr. Speaker: That would not be a usual or proper course to take. It may be printed by order of the Committee before whom it will go.—Mr. Sexton: Is any Motion necessary to insure that it will be printed?—Mr. Speaker: I have no doubt it will be printed, [329] 729

PRIVILEGE

Wrongful Arrest of Mr. Patrick O'Brien—I understood from the hon. Member (Mr. Picton) privately that the main purport of his Motion was to allude to the arrest of a certain Member of this House without justification. If the hon. Member proposes to refer to the arrest of the hon. Member for West Waterford (Mr. Pyne) and the hon. Member for West Cork (Mr. Gilhooly), he would not, in my opinion, be within Privilege. Privilege cannot be pleaded to an arrest on a criminal charge, nor to the administration of criminal justice. But with regard to the case of the hon. Member for North Monaghan (Mr. P. O'Brien) there is a clear case for demanding explanation, and in that matter the hon. Member is perfectly within his right in calling it a matter of Privilege, and so taking precedence, [322] 262, 263, 266

Comments on the Votes of certain Members—Letter of the National Union Association respecting the votes of certain Members. The letter having been read, Mr. Speaker said: It seems to me that there is not even a primâ facie case of Privilege, [323] 1312

Canvassing of Members—Circulars and post cards soliciting the vote of hon. Members in regard to the alleged grievances of certain workmen at Enfield and Woolwich Arsenal being complained, Mr. Speaker said: I must say, taking together the circular and post-card, the proceeding appears to be contrary to the best usages and traditions of this House; and if the practice were to become prevalent, I am afraid it would tend to lower the character of the House, [323] 1439

Arrest of Members—Mr. Speaker: I have always acted on the principle that the arrest of a Member is a most important matter, and ought not to be kept back from the House; and I therefore took the earliest opportunity of making the communication of the fact (arrest of Mr. J. J. O'Kelly) to the House, [327] 495, 498

Lord Randolph Churchill, proposing, as a Question of Privilege, a letter written by Mr. Conybeare and published in The Star newspaper, asked, as a point of Order, whether it would be in Order to move that the Clerk at the Table should read the letter, or whether it would be more in Order that he should read it himself?—Mr. Speaker said, that if the noble Lord wished to bring the matter before the House as a matter of Breach of Privilege, it would be right that the letter should be read by the Clerk at the Table, [329] 49

Relevancy—Which having been done, and debate arising, Mr. Speaker said: The noble Lord is bound to confine himself to the subject-matter of the letter, [329] 51

Rules of Debate—The usual course is for the hon. Member who is charged to make any statement he wishes to make, and then to withdraw, [329] 56

Mr. Speaker states at length the circumstances under which the debate had arisen and its present position [See Text [329] p. 57]. I propose to regard this proposition as two distinct propositions, and to put to the House—first, that the letter in The Star is a distinct libel on the Speaker of the House of Commons, and deserves the severest condemnation of this House, [329] 65, 67

The Times newspaper—Mr. Speaker: The Question before the House is whether the words in the issue of The Times of this day constitute a Breach of Privilege. The hon. Member is not entitled to go back to former articles, because the question simply is whether the words contained in the article to-day constitute a Breach of the Privileges of this House, [329] 1258, 1259, 1263

Service of a Summons upon a Member of this House in the Outer Lobby, and it being proposed to appoint a Select Committee thereon—Mr. Speaker said: I hope I may interfere in the interests of the House, and with the fullest desire to preserve the privileges of Members of the House. I trust that the House will not in any way prejudge this case, but will allow the proposed Committee to inquire most fully into the circumstances, and do what, in their wisdom, they may think fit to guard the privileges of every Member of this House. The Question immediately before the House is the appointment of a Select Committee, and the terms of the Reference to that Committee, [331] 217

Attachment of a Member (Mr. Gent-Davis)—Mr. Speaker acquainted the House that he had received a Letter relating to the Attachment of Mr. Gent-Davis, Member for Kennington. Mr. Sexton: May I ask whether that notification vacates the seat, or what effect it has on the seat?—Mr. Speaker: That is a question which it is not for me to answer. I have only done my duty in communicating to the House the Letter of the learned Judge, [331] 484

Order

Suspension of Members—It is a question rather for the interpretation of the House than a question of Order. If the House limits the suspension to one month, that Proviso could be added to the end, [329] 99, 100

PUBLIC BILLS

The decision of the House negativing the Motion, "That the Bill be now read a second time," determines only that the Bill be not now read the second time; and it is, therefore, competent for the hon. Gentleman to set up the Bill again and put it down for Second Reading on a future day, [322] 1496

Amendments—The hon. Member is discussing clauses in respect of which the House has already divided. The hon. Gentleman is, therefore, not in Order in referring to those clauses, [325] 1561

Amendments — Criminal Evidence Bill — Mr. Speaker said, he must point out to the hon. and learned Member that Notice of such Amendment would be necessary. He had intimated to the hon. and learned Gentleman that the Notice on the Paper was not in Order, the reason being that the subject of the Notice was not germane to the Law of Evidence which was dealt with by the Bill, [325] 1564

Parliamentary Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Bill—Moved, "That the Committee be deferred till To-morrow." Question put. Mr. T. M. Healy: I must object to that, and we can take a Division—Mr. Speaker: The majority of the House may decide if the Bill should be set down for this or a future day. Question again put.—Mr. Speaker: There is not a preponderance of voices for the later day, and there can be no Division on the subject [326] 1145

Local Government (England and Wales) Bill—Several hon. Gentlemen having put on the Paper Instructions to the Committee on this Bill, Mr. Speaker thought it his duty to refer to them severally; and, having pointed out the objections attaching to each, called upon the hon. Member for the Eye Division of Suffolk (Mr. F. S. Stevenson), whose Instruction was in Order, [326] 1440

Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister Bill—Instruction to the Committee.—An Amendment authorizing marriage with a deceased husband's brother can only be attained by an Instruction to the Committee. Afterwards Mr. Heneage claimed to move, "That the Question be now put."—Mr. Speaker:

As no arguments have been adduced on either side, I cannot consent to put the Motion of the right hon. Gentleman, [327] 75

National Debt (Supplemental) Bill—Bill, as amended, considered. I must call the attention of the right hon. Gentleman to the fact that there is no Question before the House. No debate can arise at this stage, and the Third Reading will be taken to-morrow. There can be no discussion on this stage of the Bill, [327] 126

Libel Law Amendment Bill—Amendments on Consideration.—The more regular course would be for the hon. Gentleman to move the clause in the terms in which it appeared on the Paper, and then, if it was the pleasure of the House to read it a second time, for the hon. Gentleman to propose whatever Amendments he might wish to make in it, [327] 734, 740

Mr. Speaker's judgment as to further Amendments, 743, 752

Moved, "That the Order for the Second Reading of the Lunacy Acts Amendment Bill be discharged and the Bill withdrawn." Mr. Conybeare asked if there was any chance of the Bill being taken in an Autumn Session?—Mr. Speaker: If it is withdrawn, it cannot be taken in the Autumn, [328] 1211

Bribery (Public Bodies Prevention) Bill—Moved, That the Order for the Second be discharged and the Bill withdrawn. Mr. Conybeare: I object.—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member cannot object to that Motion, [328] 1883

When an hon. Member proposes to withdraw a Bill it is a purely formal Motion, to which I do not think the objection of the hon. Member would hold good, [329] 48; [330] 1371

Third Reading (after Report).—The Third Reading may be taken without the unanimous, if there is the general, consent of the House, [329] 1855

Land Purchase (Ireland) Bill—Motion for Leave—Mr. Gladstone asked Mr. Speaker to state the nature of the Rule under which it had been found possible to dispense with the preliminary Resolution in Committee in the case of this Bill.—Mr. Speaker accordingly explained the character and position of the Bill, and, in concluding, said: It has always been the practice of this House, sanctioned by my Predecessors in the Chair, to hold that it is not necessary for the House to go into Committee and to pass a preliminary Resolution in regard to a Bill which is in accordance with the provisions of an Act already passed, and where that Act has been passed under the ordinary sanction provided by the Standing Order in the case of Money Bills (see text), [330] 1550, 1551

Sir Wilfrid Lawson: Is it in Order, Sir, to get a Bill printed before the First Reading?—Mr. Speaker: There is no breach of Order, [330] 1761

Order for Committee read—Instructions—Mr. Parnell: I propose, Sir, to move the Instruction to the Committee which stands in my name.—Mr. Speaker explained at length. It was, he said, irregular, because it opened up the whole question of the Land Act of 1881, without any special reference to either Lord Ashbourne's Act, or to the Land Purchase Bill now before the House (see text), [331] 32, 33, 34

Rules of Debate—Irrelevance—Mr. W. H. Smith asked, whether the hon. and learned Member was speaking to the question of arrears or of purchase?—Mr. Waddy said, that if he was not in Order he would, no doubt, be called to Order by the proper authority.—Mr. Speaker said, that to go into the general question of arrears and their bearings on the ultimate position of tenants who might hereafter desire to purchase was opening a wider field of discussion than it was competent for him now to enter upon, [331] 36

Consideration — Mr. Sexton asked whether the clause he had put down reserving minerals, mining rights, and foreshores and vesting them in the Commissioners of Works in the case of holdings under the Act would be accepted by the Government?—Mr. Speaker said, it would require an Instruction.—Mr Sexton said, he had given Notice of an Instruction.—Mr. Speaker said, it would be beyond the scope of the Bill to allow such an Instruction; and, therefore, it was entirely out of Order, [331] 471

Reprint after Amendments—Mr. Henry H. Fowler asked the Speaker on whom the authority rested to decide whether a Bill which had been altered on the Report stage should be reprinted?—Mr. Speaker: The House itself would decide when a Bill should be reprinted, [331] 527

Order—Stages of Public Bills—Mr. Sexton asked whether it was in Order to discuss when the Third Reading should be taken, as the Report stage had not yet been reached?—Mr. Speaker said, that such a course would be irregular, [331] 458

Sale of Intoxicating Liquors on Sunday Bill—Second Reading — Amendments — Mr. Speaker: In the event of the Amendment of the hon. Member for Northampton becoming the substantive Question, it will, of course, be competent for any Member to move to amend it, [332] 332

Amendments—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman (Mr. J. G. Talbot) proposes to leave out the whole of the words, and to substitute an entirely different Resolution. I am afraid I cannot put the hon. Gentleman's Amendment, [332] 336

Consolidated Fund (Appropriation) Bill—Third Reading—Committee of the Whole House—Rulings of the Chairman—Money Bills—Mr. Caldwell asked whether it would be competent for the House to review the ruling of the Chairman when the House was in Committee yesterday, in consequence of which an essential part of the Bill had not passed through the Committee stage?—Mr. Speaker: There is no such thing as an appeal from the Chairman of Committees to the Speaker; but, as a matter of courtesy to the hon. Member, I may say that the proper course was followed. The practice is that in Money Bills and Bills of this nature the Preamble is never put, [332] 1010, 1011

RULES AND ORDER OF DEBATE

The Previous Question—Mr. Speaker points out the inconvenience attaching to the customary form of moving, "That the Question be now put," and proposes to establish the precedent by adopting the form, "That the Question be not now put;" and the general assent of the House being signified, Mr. Speaker proposed the Question, "That the Question be not now put," [323] 1861

The Judges—I am quite aware that Judge Curran is not a Judge of a Superior Court; but I think that all those who are in the position of Judges ought to be spoken of with common decency and respect. If the hon. Gentleman has any charge to bring against this Judge, of course he can take the course prescribed by law, no matter what his position may be, [322] 463

Mr. Speaker: Again I say this is not a point of Order. If the hon. and gallant Baronet had made any charge against the hon. Gentleman in the House in un-Parliamentary language, I should certainly have called him to Order. If the hon. Gentleman thinks any imputation has been made against him, he is at perfect liberty to repudiate the insinuation so made, and to state that there is no foundation for it. No Question of Order has yet arisen, [322] 528, 529, 530

Order in Debate—I think the hon. and learned Gentleman (Mr. T. M. Healy) is now disputing the ruling of the Chair, and he is out of Order in doing so, [322] 850

There being an Amendment before the House, it would not be competent for an hon. Member to move the omission of words in the Original Motion, [322] 1690; an Amendment allowed, 1695, 1754

The hon. Member could not properly, under the circumstances, take that course (of moving the adjournment of the debate); but if he spoke till the hour of adjournment, he would be entitled to resume on the next occasion, [322] 1984

Repetition—Mr. Speaker said, it did not strike him that the hon. Member (Mr. Dixon-Hartland) was repeating himself. He was entitled to amplify the argument upon which he was engaged when Business was suspended, [323] 1540

It is a well-established Rule of the House that a Member may refer to notes in order to refresh his memory; but he must not read his speech, [323] 1632

Right of Reply—The hon. and gallant Member has no right of reply on an Order of the Day, [324] 1560

Reference to a Previous Answer — Mr. Speaker: It is impossible now, at this stage, to enter into a debate as to whether an answer given now is a different one to an answer given some time ago, [326] 1399, 1400

Production of Documents—Mr. T. M. Healy inquired whether it was not in accordance with the Rules of the House that when a Member of the Treasury Bench rose to reply to a Question with reference to a Report, and makes a reference to that Report, he was not bound to lay the Report upon the Table?—Mr. Speaker: There is no obligation of that nature as regards a confidential Report; but as to official or ordinary Reports, if a Minister quotes from them, he is bound to lay them on the Table, [326] 1402

Production of Documents—Mr. Sexton: I wish to ask you, Sir, whether the judgment in the Killeagh case was directly quoted by the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Solicitor General and other Members of the Government in the course of the debate last night; and whether, if that be so, they are not bound, for the information of the House, to lay a copy upon the Table?—Mr. Speaker: That does not come under the Rule; but I suppose that the judgment will be accessible to hon. Members. Of course, if it were not, and if it were only an official document, and they have quoted from it, they would be bound to lay a copy upon the Table, [327] 1283

Order, order! In the interests of the fair conduct of the debate, I trust that these constant running commentaries on the remarks of the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. A. J. Balfour) will cease, otherwise it will be impossible that the debate can proceed, [327] 1373

Amendments — Mr. Speaker explains, at length, his reasons for permitting Mr. Stansfeld to move his Resolution relating to Amendts. on the Ulster Canal and Tyrone Navigation Bill. The right hon. Gentleman, he said, in proposing this Motion, had taken an unusual course, and the circumstances in which the House finds itself are most unusual. I consider that the Motion of the right hon. Gentleman, so far as I can gather its purport, would be for the purpose of relieving the House from a state of things which would be intolerable. . . . . As the only way of getting the House out of the difficulty, I take upon myself the responsibility of allowing the Motion to be made, [328] 37, 38

Supply—Report—Mr. Speaker said, that at that stage the hon. Member could not move the reduction of the Vote for the Colonial Office. The Question before the House was that they agree with the Committee in their Resolution to pass the Vote. The hon. Member could say "No" to that proposition, [329] 219

Moved, "That the Lords' Amendments be considered on Tuesday."—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member cannot divide against this merely formal Business. It is formal, and routine of the House; and I do not think it comes within the Rules of Opposed Business, or can be opposed, [329] 1353, 1354

Supply—Report—Speaking a Second Time—Mr. James Stuart again rose to address the

cont.

House—Mr. Speaker said, the hon. Member (Mr. James Stuart) had exhausted his right to speak, and could only speak by indulgence, [330] 1370

Speaking a Second Time, [329] 1854; [330] 440; [331] 1463; [332] 617, 1016

Reference to a Previous Debate—Mr. Dillon asked whether the hon. and gallant Gentleman (Colonel Saunderson) was in Order in referring to a particular debate which had taken place a short time ago?—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and gallant Gentleman is referring to a debate on the first reading of this same Bill, [331] 564

Liability of Trustees Bill—Consideration—Adjourned Debate—Speaking a Second Time. Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Gentleman (Sir Edward Clarke), having already spoken, can only speak by the indulgence of the House, [331] 1488, 1489

Mr. Conybeare rose to address the House—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman has already spoken, I believe. Mr. Conybeare: I moved the Adjournment last night.—Mr. Speaker: The Adjournment having been agreed to, the hon. Gentleman is within his right, [331] 1489

Limitation of Observations—Supply—Report—The Constabulary Vote—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member for Northampton will be perfectly in Order if he confines his remarks to the conduct of the Royal Irish Constabulary, [331] 1879, 1880

Mr. Dillon having referred to the Report of the Committee of 1858, which sat to inquire into the condition of things on the Olphert Estate, Donegal.—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member is now travelling wide of the Constabulary Vote in entering into the evidence given before this Committee so many years ago. . . . . I am sorry to interrupt the hon. Gentleman, but this has nothing to do with the Constabulary Vote, [331] 1900, 1901

Latitude of Debate—Mr. S. Smith was proceeding to call attention to the disturbed state of feeling and the grievances existing in Wales

Mr. Speaker: Order, order! Of course, the limits of discussion are very wide on these occasions; but I do not know how the hon. Member proposes to connect this subject with the Bill before the House. The Appropriation Bill is subject to the same Rules which affect other Bills, and the point to be discussed must be somewhat relevant to the Bill. Sir Wilfrid Lawson asked whether it was competent for anyone to move any sort of Amendment to the Second Reading of the Appropriation Bill?—Mr. Speaker said, it had not been customary; but since 1870 Amendments had repeatedly been moved, [332] 903, 904

Relevancy and Irrelevancy

The hon. and gallant Member is now entering into a subject which would more properly come in upon the Navy rather than the Army Estimates, [323] 234, 640

I must remind the hon. Member that his observations are entirely irrelevant to the subject of the introduction of an English

Bill. He is quite out of Order, upon the introduction of a Bill relating to England and Wales, to make such constant reference to Ireland, [323] 1701

Relevancy—The Financial Statement—Any inquiry or discussion would only be relevant which referred to the subject of the Resolution which was passed last night in dealing with the Wine Duties. The noble Lord (Lord R. Churchill), therefore, upon that Resolution, would have to confine his remarks to the Wine Duties, [324] 401

Irrelevance—I must point out to the hon. and learned Gentleman that he is treating the broad Question before the House in a very special manner, [325] 831

Irrelevance—The hon. Gentleman is not talking in any sensible manner relatively to the subject before the House. I must warn the hon. Gentleman. . . . . I must ask the hon. Gentleman to discontinue his speech, [328] 150

Irrelevance and Repetition—Mr. Speaker: I must call the attention of the House to the great abuse involved in the course the hon. Member is pursuing. The hon. Gentleman is not only talking at extreme length—I do not complain of that, which it is competent for him to do—but he is repeating arguments which he made use of on the last occasion, and repeating himself to-day on a subject which is purely a financial one, [329] 1734

Mr. Philipps asked, whether the Government would, at an early date, bring forward some measure dealing with the question of mineral royalties?—Mr. Speaker: Order! Such a subject does not come within the scope of a discussion on the Appropriation Bill, [332] 929

Consolidated Fund (Appropriation) Bill—Mr. Cunninghame Graham was proceeding to call attention to the distress existing in certain parts of the country — Mr. Speaker: I do not think a general disquisition on the state of the poor in any district would be relevant to the Appropria- Bill. If the hon. Gentleman could allege that there had been any neglect of duty on any Minister's part with reference to any particular class of workmen he would be in Order; but it would not be relevant to discuss generally the condition of the poor, or to allude to further legislation, [332] 1014

Un-Parliamentary Language

Mr. E. Harrington: The right hon. Gentleman the Chief Secretary for Ireland (Mr. Balfour) was fond of imputing mendacity to his opponents; but that evening the right hon. Gentleman had himself furnished a good example of the flippant mendacity which usually characterized his statements.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! That remark is very improper, and altogether un-Parliamentary. I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw it, [322] 186, 187

Sir Walter Barttelot: Whereas hon. Members elow the Gangway opposite merely showed respect for the Queen in that House, while everything they did outside showed the itter feeling entertained against the Sovereign and against the Government.—Mr. Speaker: I think the remark of the hon. and gallant Member ought not to pass without notice — they are un-Parliamentary. Sir W. Barttelot said, that as his expression was considered too strong he would withdraw it at once, [322] 523

Lord George Hamilton: I have to call your attention, Mr. Speaker, to the circumstance that an hon. Member has made use of the words "Tory skunks." I wish to ask you, Sir, whether such language is regular?—Mr. Speaker: Such language is highly improper and un-Parliamentary, and if I knew the name of the hon. Member who used it, I would bring it before the House, [322] 746

Order—Irregular Language—Political meetings of a legal and loyal character, and political meetings of an illegal and disloyal character—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The Question, in the language in which it is put, is out of Order, and deals with a matter of opinion, [323] 1431

Mr. W. Redmond: Why do you not let us answer the Chief Secretary's speech?—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! Mr. Redmond: You are afraid to be answered.—Mr. Speaker: If the hon. Member persists in these unseemly interruptions, I shall have to take strong measures. Mr. J. F. X. O'Brien: You are cowards. — Mr. Speaker: Order, order! [324] 457

Mr. T. P. O'Connor: Perhaps the right hon. Gentleman would pardon him if he said that he did not consider him the highest moral authority, although, in another sense, an authority on the doctrine of equivocation.—Mr. Speaker: I wish to point out to the hon. Member that his last expression exceeds the courtesies of debate, and should therefore be withdrawn, [325] 924

Lord Randolph Churchill wished to draw Mr. Speaker's attention to the fact that the hon. Member (Mr. Conybeare) had said that what the right hon. Gentleman had stated was absolutely false. He desired to know whether that language was Parliamentary?—Mr. Speaker: If the hon. Member used that expression, I hope he will withdraw it, [328] 1423

Mr. Conybeare: Without fear of the application of the closure, which he had no hesitation in saying was, under the circumstances, simply a public scandal —— Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The remark which the hon. Member has just now made must be withdrawn. Mr. Conybeare; I withdraw the remark. But the hon. Member, speaking in a low voice, was misunderstood, and Mr. Speaker "named" him to the House. After explanation, Mr. Speaker: It is quite sufficient if the hon. Member said he did withdraw. I did not so understand him, but I accept his word most unreservedly, [328] 1899, 1900

Un-Parliamentary Expressions—Mr. Sexton asked whether the Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant was entitled to say in this House that, on a comparison of veracity between my hon. Friend who sits below me and officials in Ireland, he believes the officials in Ireland, and flouts the testimony of my hon. Friend?—Mr. Speaker: I think that the hon. Member misunderstood the observation of the right hon. Gentleman. The right hon. Gentleman has appealed to me as to what the right hon. Gentleman said; and I heard the right hon. Gentleman say that he had no desire to pit the veracity of the hon. Member against the veracity of the officials, [329] 745

Mr. J. Chamberlain complained that the hon. Member for the Scotland Division of Liverpool (Mr. T. P. O'Connor) had made use of an expression of an offensive character, which he addressed to him in the House of Commons. He had called him "Judas Chamberlain." It being denied and affirmed that this expression had been used.—Mr. Speaker said: I therefore ask the hon. Member for the Scotland Division of Liverpool whether he did use the expression? Mr. T. P. O'Connor: Yes, Sir; I used the expression. Afterwards—Mr. T. P. O'Connor: I do not wish to be a party to, nor do I think I should be justified, in prolonging this discussion; and, whatever may be my feelings on the subject, I admit I should not have used the expression in this House, and I now wish to withdraw it, [329] 884, 885

Mr. T. M. Healy: I object. You give us no quarter, and we will give you none.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! I must ask the hon. and learned Gentleman to observe Parliamentary manners, [329] 1191

Mr. Speaker: I must call on both hon. Members (Dr. Tanner and Mr. Brookfield) to maintain a courteous bearing towards each other, and I do hope the House will not consider it necessary to pursue this matter further, [329] 1362, 1363

Sir John Colomb: I wish to ask whether it is in Order, when one Member puts a Question, for another hon. Member to ask whether he is not ashamed of himself for doing so?—Mr. Speaker: It is clearly out of Order. The expression did not reach me, or I should have taken notice of it, but it is an improper and un-Parliamentary expression, [330] 113

Irregular Expressions—Mr. Byron Reed said, that many hon. Members were interested in the speedy passage of the Land Purchase (Ireland) Bill, in order to proceed with other Business that had been long delayed by the factious obstruction of hon. Members opposite. — Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member must not make use of the phrase "factious obstruction," [331] 457

The Judges—Mr. T. W. Russell: Is it in Order for a Member of this House to state regarding one of the Judges of the Supreme Courts in Ireland, that he has prostituted the seat of justice to assist the Government to carry out their policy?—Mr. Speaker said, the term "prostitution of the seat of justice" was clearly an improper and un-Parliamentary expression, and he asked the hon. Member (Dr. Kenny) to withdraw it, [331] 536

Disorderly Conduct — Un - Parliamentary Language — Mr. Cunninghame Graham ordered to Withdraw—Mr. Cunninghame Graham: I asked a definite Question whether the right hon. Gentleman would afford facilities for the discussion of a Motion of one of his own supporters? If he does not do so, I characterize that Motion as a dishonourable trick to avoid discussion.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The hon. Member is conducting himself in a most unusual and un-Parliamentary manner in making use of language of that kind. I must request him to withdraw the expression he has made use of.—Mr. Cunninghame Graham: I never withdraw. I simply said what I meant.—Mr. Speaker: I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw the expression "dishonourable trick," which is a strictly improper and un-Parliamentary expression. Mr. Cunninghame Graham: I wish to acquit myself of any intentional discourtesy to you; but I am compelled again to characterize the action taken with regard to this Motion as a dishonourable trick.—Mr. Speaker: I must again ask the hon. Member to withdraw so improper and un-Parliamentary an expression.—Mr. Cunninghame Graham: I refuse, Sir, to withdraw. Mr. Speaker: Then I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw from the House, [331] 773

Mr. Conybeare said, that if the hon. Member (Mr. Brooke Robinson) had been aware that his hon. Friend's absence was caused by the serious illness of Mr. Cunninghame Graham, he presumed the hon. Member would not have had the brutality to attack his absent friend.—Mr. Speaker: The word "brutality," used as the hon. Member used it, should not be employed in debate, and I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw it. Mr. Speaker: I must ask the hon. Member (Mr. Conybeare) to control himself within the ordinary limits of Parliamentary decorum, [331] 1388, 1389

Attendance and Seats of Members—Offensive Language—Mr. Bartley asked, whether it is in accordance with the Rules of the House for the hon. Member for Mid Cork (Dr. Tanner), who sits on the other side of the House, to come to this side and make remarks which are most offensive to us, and, in consequence, lead to great altercation and considerable noise in this direction?—Mr. Speaker: I cannot prevent the hon. Member for Mid Cork sitting in whatever part of the House he chooses to sit in. At the same time I may point out to the House that there are traditions in this House, and I must leave it to the good taste and courtesy of hon. Members as to the place they will sit in. Of course, if any collision arise, I should know whom I am to make responsible for it. I did not gather that the expressions made use of by the hon. Member for Mid Cork were of an un-Parliamentary character. If they were, it would be quite competent for the hon. Gentleman (Mr. Bartley) to bring them to the notice of the Chair, and I should certainly be bound to deal with them, [331] 1483, 1484

Dr. Tanner said, he had to call attention to a personal matter. Just now he left a broken baton near the Chief Secretary, that the right hon. Gentleman might see how it had been broken. Since then a private Member refused to restore the broken baton, which was his (Dr. Tanner's) own property.—Mr. Speaker: The House is almost as tired as I am of these wretched personal disputes that circulate around the hon. Member for Mid Cork. At the same time, if any hon. Member has taken the baton referred to, I hope he will at once restore it, [331] 1904-5

Orders of the Day

A Correction allowed, [325] 438

Motions and Questions

Motions—Mr. Speaker suggests an alteration in the form of a Resolution for an Address in reference to the Metropolitan Board of Works, [322] 676

Latitude and Limitation of Questions, [322] 1231; [324] 723

That appears to be a Question that does not arise from the Question on the Paper, nor is it possible to answer that Question without Notice, [323] 357

The only observation which I think it my duty to make is that there is a practice growing up of making counter-statements upon a Question being put, which it is impossible, of course, to deal with, and which practically assumes the form of a new Question given without Notice, but which should be the subject of a separate Notice on the Paper, [323] 374

Order—The only question was whether the Second Reading of the Bill should be set down for 2 o'clock on Friday, and it was not competent to enter into any other question, [323] 884

Notice—The Questions of both hon. Members were without Notice, and were certainly of a very argumentative character. He understood the Notices were given only a few minutes ago, [323] 1436

Sir Charles Lewis begged to say that the Question had been put down incorrectly on the Notice Paper; the most material parts had been left out; and he wished now to supplement it.—Mr. Speaker informed the hon. Baronet that the portions referred to had been purposely omitted, [323] 1613

There is no difference in the practice, nor is there any distinction made between Questions from one side of the House or the other, [323] 1628

Combination of Discussion—Mr. Ritchie suggested that it would be convenient that both Bills should be discussed on the Motion for the Second Reading of the Local Government Bill—Mr. Speaker: Under the circumstances of the case, and considering the close connection between the Bills, I do not think I ought to raise any objection to a general discussion taking place upon the two measures, [324] 1065

Irregularity of Questions—The latter part of the Question was struck out by myself, as being irregular, [324] 1475, 1735

Alteration of Questions—Mr. Clancy: In putting this Question, I desire to point out that the summary of this declaration of the prisoner, as given in the Question, is not mine, and that I gave the original statement.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! There was a reason why it was summarized. It was that the Question of the hon. Member extended over two pages of foolscap, and it was almost impossible to put down a Question of that length; and as fair a summary as was thought possible was substituted, [324] 1738

Complicated Questions—Mr. Speaker: It may be for the convenience of the House that the hon. Gentleman's two propositions should be put together; but if any hon. Gentleman objects to their being taken together, they will be put separately, [324] 1823

Irregular Questions—That Question is out of Order in itself, and ought to have been given Notice of, and put upon the Paper. Then it would have been submitted to me. . . . That Question also is very improper. If it had been handed in, I should have disallowed its being put upon the Paper, [325] 28

It is within the competence of a Minister to refuse to answer a Question, [325] 319

Alteration of Question—Mr. Buchanan complained that the Question did not appear on the Paper in the form in which he handed it in.—Mr. Speaker said, the Question had been altered under a known Rule of the House, for the purpose of avoiding controversy as to what had previously passed in the House, [325] 338

Mr. Speaker: Order, order! That seems to be the subject of a new Question. Mr. M'Cartan; Arising out of this, Sir.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! That seems to be the subject of a new Question, of which due Notice must be given, [325] 441

The hon. Gentleman is now making a counter-statement. If he wishes for further information he had better put a Notice on the Paper in the usual way. The hon. Gentleman is making a counter-statement to which it is not possible for a Minister to reply, [325] 593

It is a Rule of the House that a mere opinion of a Member on a particular subject is not the proper subject for a Question, [326] 1538

Mr. Gladstone having put a Question to the Chief Secretary, with whose answer he was dissatisfied, said, he would to-morrow put a Question, which he recited.—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! I am sorry to interrupt the right hon. Gentleman; but there is a Rule of the House against giving Notice in this way, [327] 96

I must call the attention of the House to the practice, which is a growing one, after the Questions have been twice gone over, of Members reviving Questions which have been answered some time ago, and raising a series of further Questions upon them. I think that practice is causing serious inconvenience to the House, [327] 115

Notice—The right hon. Gentleman has just stated that he is not in a position to give an answer to-day, but that he will give it to-morrow. If the hon. Gentleman is asking a Question now which is not on the Paper he should give Notice of it, [327] 817

cont.

If the hon. and learned Gentleman wishes to put a Question to elucidate a point, he is entitled to do so; but he cannot introduce any matter of argument, [327] 988

It is an irregular Question to ask the Government whether they agree with the observations of the learned Judge, [328] 426

Mr. Chance asked whether it was in Order to answer a series of other Questions when a reply to one only was asked for? — Mr. Speaker: The Question is too trivial for me to answer, [329] 528

If I recollect right, the term used by the hon. Gentleman was invidious—I am speaking from memory—and the words were whether the system commonly called jury packing was habitually enforced in the county? I thought that expression ought not to appear on the Paper, and I think so now, [329] 533

I must say that it seems to me that the practice of putting supplemental Questions is being greatly abused to-day, [329] 534

Irregular Questions—Questions to the Chair—Mr. Conybeare asked the Speaker, as a point of procedure, whether on Friday, July 20, the hon. Member for Camborne was suspended from the service of the House; and, if so, what was the effect of the vote on the right of the hon. Member to enter the precincts of the House, Galleries, or Libraries?—Mr. Speaker: It is very unusual for an hon. Member to put a Question to the Chair in this manner. If the hon. Member will communicate privately with me I will endeavour to give him all the information in my power, [330] 462

Mr. Nolan wished to ask the Secretary of State for the Home Department a further Question of which he had given Notice—namely, what had been done in the case of the men who had hooted and pelted the ex-Prime Minister at Dover last December?—Mr. Speaker: That Question was struck off the Paper by my direction, [330] 641

Notice — Mr. Conybeare asked the Secretary of State for the Home Department, with reference to the murders in the East End of London, whether he did not think it was time to replace Sir Charles Warren by some other officer who would investigate those crimes?—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The hon. Gentleman must give Notice of that Question in the usual way. Mr. Conybeare: I now give Notice of it.—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member must give Notice in writing at the Table in the usual way, [330] 774

Mr. Conybeare asked whether it was true that the Chancellor of the Exchequer had asked the Scotch Members to support the Excise Duties (Local Purposes) Bill on the understanding that it should not extend to Scotland; and whether he intended to carry his Bill by such bribery?—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! That Question is not on the Paper, [330] 1888

Mr. Speaker: Order! A series of Questions like this amounts to a debate, [331] 23

Irregular Questions — Mr. Bradlaugh, referring to a Question on the Paper in the name of the hon. Member for Oldham (Mr. J. M. Maclean), asked Mr. Speaker whether the allegation in Paragraph 2 that an Englishman named Hume was the author of "seditious pamphlets," and the reference in Paragraph 3 to "revolutionary speeches of delegates to a Congress which aims at destroying the security of English rule in India," were not irregular as containing debatable matter?—Mr. Speaker said, the expressions were undoubtedly irregular, and appeared on the Paper through inadvertence. He had sent for the hon. Member who was to put the Question to point out to him the irregularities, [331] 1018

SELECT COMMITTEES

Sunday Closing Act (Ireland) — Sir Wilfrid Lawson asked whether it was not the rule, when one name was nominated for a Select Committee, that the remarks should be made upon that particular name?—Mr. Speaker said, it would be more regular for the hon. Gentleman to object to any particular name—The Chief Secretary for Ireland said, that, perhaps, on this particular Motion, he ought to say a few words with respect to the general constitution of the Committee.—Mr. Speaker thought the right hon. Gentleman would not be in Order. They had now arrived at a particular name, and the discussion must be confined to the qualifications of that Gentleman to serve upon the Committee, [323] 1704, 1705, 1708, 1709

The Motion that the Select Committee on Emigration and Immigration (Foreigners) do consist of "Nineteen" Members, having been agreed to—— Mr. Speaker intimated that Notice must be given of the two additional names of Members proposed to be added to the Committee, [323] 1797

Aire and Calder Navigation Bill—Order for Second Reading read—Mr. Austin said, he had placed a Notice on the Paper to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee—Mr. Speaker said, the Motion of which the hon. Member had given Notice must be moved after the Bill had been read a second time, [328] 16

Bann Drainage Bill — Mr. Sexton said, he gave Notice last night, by speech and writing, that on the next occasion of this Bill coming before the House, he would move that in consequence of the exclusion of Irish Representatives from the debate on the Second Reading the House decline to proceed further with the measure. That Notice had not appeared on the Paper, and the question he had to ask was, in what form could the objection of the Irish Members be raised, if not pertinent to the Motion for reference to a Select Committee? He would ask in what manner that debate could be raised?—Mr. Speaker: On the Report stage of the Bill.—Mr. Sexton: After it comes back from Committee?—Mr. Speaker: After it comes back from Committee. Mr.

Tomlinson: The Bill goes to a Select Committee; will it not be considered in Committee by the House?—Mr. Speaker: It must come before the House, [329] 157, 158

STANDING COMMITTEES

Mr. Abraham asked if there was any proposition for adding Representatives of the working classes to the Committee in relation to the Bill?—Mr. Speaker said, that was a matter for the Committee of Selection, [327] 227

MISCELLANEOUS

Personal Explanation—Mr. Howell rose to make a personal explanation with regard to the use of the term "battleworthiness" of ships of war which the noble Lord (Lord George Hamilton) had challenged. He wished to refer to the report of the Question 2987, which was, "Do you consider yourself responsible for the battleworthiness of the ship?"—Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The hon. Member is rather exceeding the limits of a personal explanation. The good faith of the hon. Member has not been attacked, [330] 1667

Waste and Vacant Lands
Moved, "That, in the opinion of this House, ownership of land in the United Kingdom should carry with it the duty of cultivation or utilization, and that in all cases where land capable of cultivation or utilization with profit, and not devoted to some purpose of public utility or enjoyment, is held in a vacant, waste, or uncultivated state, the local authorities ought to have the power to compulsorily acquire such land by payment to the owner of a sum representing the capital agricultural value of such lands, in order that such local authorities may, in their discretion, let the said lands to tenant cultivators, with such conditions as to term of tenancy, rent, reclamation, drainage, utilization, and cultivation respectively as shall afford reasonable encouragement, opportunities, facilities, and security for the due utilization, cultivation, and development of the said lands" (Mr. Bradlaugh) May 1, [325] 1081
Amendt. to leave out from "That," add "whilst recognizing the fact that considerable portions of the lands of the United Kingdom, including those in a so-called vacant, waste, or uncultivated state, cannot be profitably cultivated owing to Agricultural and Industrial Depression, and are, therefore, unable to support their increasing populations, this House is of opinion that conferring powers of compulsory purchase on Local Authorities is not an effectual or desirable remedy for this state of things" (Mr. Seton-Karr); Question proposed, "That the words, &c.;" [House counted out]
